BIG SHANTY FESTIVAL HISTORY

In 1975, merchants in the downtown area of Kennesaw created a business organization that would promote and preserve the historical heritage of the downtown area of Kennesaw and encourage people to patronize their businesses. Thus the Kennesaw Business Association was chartered. The General at the Big Shanty Museum (original name) was the focal point of the City's heritage.

Town Center wasn't even a gleam in anyone's eye then — the area was still being farmed. I-75 stopped in Marietta and resumed in Cartersville, and Highway 41 (now Cobb Parkway) was dotted with Stuckey's, quilts, and boiled peanuts.

The idea started with Gayle DeSpain, Lynda Spence, Carol Thompson and Jean Guess, all local business women and members of the KBA. In discussing ways to bring new people and business into Kennesaw, they planned a spring outdoor sale in an open area between their shops on Main Street, with the hopes of attracting customers with a colorful display of antiques and craft items."

Dr. Frank Boone, President in 1975, suggested that their plans be sponsored on a larger scale by the business association and supported by the City of Kennesaw (he was a Councilman too). Thus the first Festival was born. Originally known as Trade Days, that first Spring, 36 booth spaces were set up. In 1977, Festival Chairman, the late Dent Myers, added a civil war battle reenactment and over 10,000 people attended the Spring event.

The rest is history, with the sponsorship of the KBA and the active support of the City of Kennesaw, the Festival has spread from the front lawn of By-Gone Treasures to encompass the lawn of the Museum, the Depot Parking lot, line the streets of J. O. Stephenson Ave and Main St., and fill the parking areas at City Hall. Over 250 booths have been sold for this year's festival — I don't think any of us who were involved in the planning of the first event ever envisioned how large and successful it would grow..

KENNESAW BUSINESS ASSOCIATION BOOTH

As a reminder the city allows Main Street to be closed for the Festival. This provides a much safer environment for folks to get back and forth between city hall and the depot/museum area. The Kennesaw Business Association will host an information tent, right in the middle of Main St., So if you are looking for a particular booth, someone at the Information tent will be able to tell you which section they are in.

If you have questions, stop by and see the KBA booth. Parents you might want to suggest to your kids, that if you get separated during the festival to meet each other at the Information booth. Let your child have your cell phone number, and someone from the booth can call and tell you that your child is there.

For forty-eight years the Kennesaw Business Association and the City of Kennesaw have worked together to make this Festival a success and fun for everyone. The Kennesaw Business Association takes this time to publicly thank everyone at the City, Public Works, Parks and Recreation, the Police Department, the elected officials for their support and their help.

STREET CLOSINGS

The following streets will be closed starting Friday, April 19 at 6:00 pm until Sunday April 21 at 8:00pm. J O Stephenson Ave. (runs in front of city hall and Cherokee Street in front of the museum. BRIGHT SIDE PAGE 2

ANDREW BRAMLETT'S LOCAL HISTORY STORIES

Last month, I wrote about the 1930s efforts to return the locomotive General to Kennesaw. At the time, it was on display at Chattanooga's Union Station. Efforts began again in 1959 to bring the historic engine back to Georgia. In that year, the idea was floated that the train be moved to Stone Mountain, prompting Kennesaw residents to push for its return to our area. The Governor even promised to order its return on the condition that Kennesaw build a museum. City leaders planned to utilize Monument Park, at the corner of Main and Cherokee Streets, for the new building. However, the Louisville & Nashville Railroad was still resistant. Later that year, the state attorney general sided with the railroad.

In preparation for the Civil War Centennial, the railroad restored the General to operating condition and sent it on a tour across the country. In April 1962, it returned to Kennesaw to much fanfare. The entire downtown was decorated to look like a Civil War community, and the local citizens made period clothing. The return was only temporary, and the General soon left town under its own steam. After the end of its tour, it made its way back to Chattanooga.

In the late 1960s, a legal battle began again. The railroad agreed to return the engine to Kennesaw in 1968, but the City of Chattanooga sued for custody. As the train made its way south, it was stopped by Chattanooga sheriffs. After a year of court battles, which eventually reached the US Supreme Court, the railroad was granted rights to the engine. In April 1972, the General returned to Kennesaw again, this time permanently. A museum, first called the Big Shanty Museum, was created inside of the old Frey Cotton Gin. The museum has been renovated and expanded many times and is now the Southern Museum of Civil War and Locomotive History and is affiliated with the Smithsonian Institutions.

THE ACWORTH'S MAYOR'S DESK

Spring is a season of excitement, and with all of the spring events going on, we're reminded of our community partners who work hard to give back and of our city team that strives to provide extraordinary experiences to all they serve.

In March, Acworth Parks, Recreation, and Community Resource Department and Freedom Church hosted the annual Acworth Egg Hunt. It was set to take place at the Acworth Sports Complex as it does every year, but as the weather forecast drew nearer, the team had to make the always difficult decision of moving the event indoors. We are so thankful for a versatile space like the Acworth Community Center to help us with flexibility during these occasions. The turnout was great, and families had a wonderful time at this annual tradition! We couldn't be more grateful for the hard work, dedication, and sheer determination of our Freedom Church partners and City Team to bring these quality of life moments to our community. Thank you to everyone who came out, and thank you to an amazing team of people who put so much heart into all they do to serve others!

Now that the weather has warmed up, we're getting ready for Live at Logan Farm Park on Saturday, April 20. This fun evening event is the Acworth Arts Alliance's annual fundraiser, and the Art House is looking forward to welcoming back the Weekend Getaway Band for a free concert to enjoy in Acworth's Parkside District.

Finally, make sure to mark your calendars for Acworth's Spring Town Hall where you'll learn about upcoming and ongoing city projects and be able to engage with our city's department leaders who will be onsite to discuss the roles their departments play within the city team. The Spring Town Hall takes place on Tuesday, May 7 at 6:30 p.m. at the Acworth Community Center. We'll see you there! you there!

As always, for the latest information on any of our events and projects, you can visit www.acworth-ga.gov, sign up for our e-news blasts on our home page, "like" City of Acworth on Facebook, or follow us on Instagram at @cityofacworthga.

HOME HEALTH CARE SERVICES

BY KIMBERLY HAASE

People needing assistance is an ageless need, but using technology assistance is sometimes looked upon as a younger person's tool. iLoveKare CEO, Kimberly Haase won the Innovator award for All-In Cobb County in 2023.

An assistance that American seniors have been late to adopt is AI technology. In iLoveKare's 10 years of service we have found a gradual universal need for senior citizens to adopt AI technology service into their lifestyle. iLoveKare is a concierge based service servicing active adults who may need assistance in living an active life.

In April of 2014, Pew Research Center released data between Americans age 65 or older and the rest of the population, a unique exploration on how the different age groups are connected to digital tools and services. There are two different groups of seniors that were highlighted in Pew's report.

The first group of seniors that uses technology lean toward being younger and have substantial technology assets, and have positive views toward the benefits of online platforms. The second group are older seniors usually aged 75-79 and less affluent.

Get your phone's AI assistant to actually assist you and how to apply technology to your daily regiment. We have seen our clients have the latest smartphones, tablets, smart watches, and conversational AI without using artificially intelligent assistants to its benefits. Here are a few tips on how to open your AI assistant for actual assistance.

AI assistants are: Siri (ios) - iPhones; Google Assistant - Android; Bixby- Samsung

This guide will focus on how to use these features with Siri, Google, and Bixby. For Siri, press and hold the home button, or on the iPhone X, press and hold the side button (the one on the right). For Google, bring up the Google assistant on your Android by pressing and holding the home button. You are ready to use your phone's AI. For a samsung phone you use the same application to open your AI on an Android. If you had a real-life person it would help with social isolation but for now, your phone's AI will help you stay on task and keep you organized.

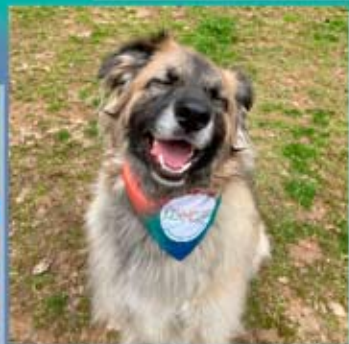

iLoveKare is here to serve the community. With being in business for ten years we come with a wealth of knowledge to serve the active adult community. We can offer personal assistance, travel companionship, hospital or rehab transition, home management, meal prep, and more.

Our promise is to provide senior care with superior customer service and effective planning in serving our aging community.

If you are a senior citizen and would like to contact iLoveKare for assistance, they may be reached by calling 404-692-0539, on Facebook at iLoveKare and Instagram at iLoveKar

JUST THE FACTS: A TAX BY ANY OTHER NAME

RANDY SCAMIRHORN,

COBB COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD CHAIR

Dear parents and taxpayers of Cobb County, during today's time together, "Just the Facts" sheds light on an issue that impacts every property owner, and apparently school, in the county.

Before we dive in, a word to those who regularly attack one of the best school systems in the country and tell this grandfather to "stay in my lane," if anything takes one dollar from your children's education, it is my lane.

It's no secret that some of the Cobb County Board of Commissioners recently proposed a stormwater "fee," which is a creative way to describe what amounts to a rainfall tax.

To recap recent events, the majority of the Commissioners' latest "fee" proposal would charge property owners every month based on the amount of paved surface area on their property. Your driveways and your child's school have a lot of paved property, as I recall.

In the past, all property owners paid a stormwater fee based on the amount of water they consumed. The Commissioners who proposed this "fee" now say they need to add a "fee" since water usage is not connected to stormwater impact. If you're not following the logic, you're not the only one trying to comprehend this tomfoolery.

The concept of taxpayers and schools paying a "fee" based on the amount of rain that falls on their property is "interesting," to say the least. Well, that's a polite phrase for it, anyway. Moms, dads, business owners, and principals can't control the weather, but we're being asked to foot the bill for nature's whims. This rainfall "fee," if passed, will add to the monthly bills of hardworking parents and, again, apparently, schools across our county.

For our families who already live on a tight budget, this additional "fee" on their already strained finances is grossly unfair. I've raised the impact this fee would have on our schools a number of times with district leaders. Unfortunately, our staff does not have enough information from the Commissioners to know how much money would be taken from classrooms, but they know it would mean fewer dollars for teachers and students. We also know our schools could have been made legally exempt, but they weren't.

After consulting with our legal team, we believe this bizarre 'stormwater fee' will be imposed upon schools, as well as the thousands of acres on which your schools are built.

The reality is that every school dollar taken for stormwater management is a dollar taken away from our children's futures. As your Cobb Schools Board Chair, I stand in staunch opposition to additional "fees" on our schools and on the taxpayer. Our students and teachers deserve better than to have their learning compromised by yet another threat to dollars that belong in the classroom. I know I speak for the majority of the Board when I point out that the latest proposal being brought forward by Cobb Commission Chair Lisa Cupid is fraught with problems for our schools and our parents.

I'm not telling you how to vote; I'm telling you what is and isn't good for our schools and Cobb's children.

As Cobb County has always fought for a better life for the next generation, I urge every resident of Cobb County to join me in supporting children, education, and wise use of your dollars, even when a tax is called a "fee." To those who will support this ill-conceived "fee" on our schools and the entire county, it is worth repeating: protecting our children's future is my, and the majority of the Board's, lane.

ARE YOU ENJOYING YOUR LIFE?

BY MARLON LONGACRE, ASSOCIATE PASTOR, PIEDMONT CHURCH

“People ought to enjoy every day of their lives, no matter how long they live.” Eccl 11:8

Kids need celebration. Families ought to have fun. Homes should be a place to play. This is a major fault in many homes where the parents are good parents and watch out for their kids, but they do not have fun. They are too busy. They come home with a “to do” list after work is over. All that stuff must be done, and they do not have time for fun.

Do you endure your kids, or do you enjoy them? Kids need celebration.

This week is “Opening Day” for the Major league baseball season. I grew up in Louisville KY. The state of Kentucky only has only had one professional sports team and that was the Kentucky Colonels that played in the old American Basketball Association. The closest professional baseball team to Louisville was the Cincinnati Reds. Cincinnati is only 100 miles from Louisville. The Reds are the oldest major league baseball team and for the longest time the first game of the baseball season was played in Cincinnati. Opening Day is a big day in Cincinnati.

My dad was one of 12 kids and never had the funds to go to a major league baseball game. He was so excited to have tickets to take his family to a major league baseball game. So much for school. So much for work. He took his boys to Riverfront Stadium.

I remember in 1978 when the University of Kentucky Wildcats were ranked #1 and played in Louisville vs Notre Dame. UK always held open practice on Friday morning at Freedom Hall in Louisville. So much for school. So much for work. Dad took us to Freedom Hall to see the Kentucky Wildcats practice.

Have fun with your kids. No single day out of routine is going to make or break their lives. Both my brother and I graduated from college. A single special event that is crazy and fun will make a memory your kids will never forget.

It has been 50 years since that day we went to Riverfront Stadium. I still remember it to this day. It has been close to 46 years since we went to watch UK practice. I still remember watching the soon to be 78 National Champions practice.

Libby, Matthew, and I went to watch Morehead State play in the Ohio Valley Conference Tournament two weeks ago. Yesterday when I got home from church there was Matthew on his computer watching the replay of Morehead State winning the championship game vs Little Rock. He had a blast watching the replay of him and Libby on ESPN.

If you are not celebrating and having fun with your kids at home, do not be surprised when they decide to spend less time there later in life. If you do not have fun with your kids and really enjoy them, do not be surprised when they grow up and move out and do not want to come back very often.

CONGRATULATIONS

Ashley Dinkel and Jacob Longacre are two examples of why Cobb is the best place to Teach, Lead, and Learn. Congratulations to both of these exceptional teachers for being recognized for their selfless work and for making sure that everyone is achieving student success.

Special Education teachers around the District work with students with many different needs and disabilities. These teachers are a unique blend of educator, mentor, and friend. They work hard every day to help their special needs students succeed in and out of the classroom.

Two such teachers were recently recognized by representatives from Cobb Schools’ Special Education Department: Director George Morgan and Assistant Director Lisa Briley. Mr. Morgan and Ms. Briley showed up at Allatoona High School early to surprise Ashley Dinkel and Jacob Longacre for their tireless dedication and the impact that they are having on their students.

“We wanted to show up for these teachers because they show up for their students day after day,” said Mr. Morgan. “This can be a challenging job, but these two are doing wonderful work and doing it in exciting and unique ways.”

THANK YOU KROGER

Our advertiser, Jason Bobby Hawkins, owner of Hawkins Insurance Agency, advises that Kroger is helping the community and seniors by facilitating trained licensed Medicare insurance agents to help customers understand the very confusing world of Medicare. The intent is to give information and choice, not to sell any one company or product but to educate on all options. It is alarming to hear how confused people are about this very important issue. Kroger should be commended for this effort.

AWTREY AND BARBER MIDDLE SCHOOLS PRESENTED AN INTERNATIONAL EXTRAVAGANZA

A rush of excitement as 8th grade students filled the Cafeteria at North Cobb High School. Students from both Awtrey and Barber Middle Schools were sharing their knowledge of the country they had selected to represent. Colorful posters, costumes and traditional cuisine representing their selected country told the stories of 32 countries.

We had the opportunity to meet Abigail Nichols and Yasmin Brown, Awtrey 8th graders who had selected Italy as their country. While at their table we learned that Italy has Europe's three active volcanoes, that the smallest country in the world resides inside Italy, (the Vatican), and a fun food fact. There is an actual term for using bread to sop up the left over sauce after eating pasta: La Scarpetta is the name of this wonderful Italian custom.

A lovely surprise awaited us when we met Reman Gothany, adorned in the elaborate traditional dress of Libya. In talking with her we met her brother, her cousin, her mother and several other members of her family - all in traditional dress. They were all there to help, even though Reman was in the 8th grade.

Students from the 6th and 7th grades performed traditional dances and played music representing various countries.
